John and Betty were on the road nine weeks last summer in their Winnebago Tour and had a great time. You can see their Trip Reports on www.ais-rv.com, click on Photo Gallery and you'll see the trip reports on the right side.

We would love to share information about your trips — where you went, favorite RV parks, photos, etc. Send us your comments and photos and we'll post them on our website and include in our newsletter.

Many people use Google Maps not only for directions, but to find services, and the reviews are important. When someone Googles All Inside RV Storage, a couple of nice photos come up, along with our phone number and web address -- but there are no reviews. If you have a minute, we would appreciate you adding a review of our facility. Thanks!

Mission Bay RV Resort, San Diego

We spent two days at this RV Park in early January. We made the reservation online, no problem. We called and made a change to the reservation, no problem. We received documents via email the day before we arrived and we were able to DocuSign them online. When we arrived, we bypassed the office and drove to the guard shack, where we were handed our paperwork, a map, and directed to our site. This was very efficient!

We had a Premium site right on Mission Bay. It was large enough, and very level — but we were only allowed to back in. Crazy, as we would have really enjoyed the view of the Bay out the front window. We met two neighboring RVers who were there for a month, and come every year. They love the location, and it is very convenient to downtown San Diego, La Jolla, Del Mar, and up the coast to Carlsbad. We wanted to also stay somewhere else north of Mission Bay, but didn't find any other RV park that looked good until Oceanside. There are several nice RV parks south of Mission Bay and San Diego, in National City and Chula Vista.
